

CONCEPT

Chapter 1: Old Debts

Client (Bib Fortuna) is paying to have those who threatened or abandoned Jabba the Hutt returned, for justice, including: Ree-Yees 10k IC, Hermi Odle 15k IC, and Bane Malar 20k IC. Client wants the proper respects paid and last will and testament completed. 1/2 if returned dead. 15k IC for all alive.

HOOK

Chapter 1: As with all Hutts, there is a list of debts to collect on—those to help and those to hurt, beginning with Ree-Yees, Hermi Odle, and Bane Malar.

Complications: Ree-Yees, Hermi Odle, and Bane Malar

Ree-Yees (male Gran)

- A criminal from Kinyen
- Amateur photographer (with a custom 3-eyed camera; keeps copies in safe place for sending to galleries ☐ and blackmail ☐)
- Suffered from a recessive genetic mutation, uncommon among Gran, which caused his hands to be deformed ☐ (seeking surgery for hands and face as he's assumed dead)
- Convicted of murder on Kinyen ☐, hid on Tatooine, thought Prefect Eugene Talmont would clear his name if he killed Jabba (or whichever Hutt succeeded him) ☐
- Bomb implanted in him with Jabba's voice command as the trigger ☐ (which Client knows about and is ready to use on Ree-Yees)
- Alcoholic ☐, hung out with Tessek ☐, assigned dog duties for Bubo frog-dog (bomb and detonator inside) ☐

- ⇓ Safe At physicians floating clinic, MyGene on Bospin getting ready for surgery
- ⇆ Alert! Post-or interrupted—gets gear from safe place storage
- ⇆ Ready!! Has gear and is waiting for transport
- ⇆ Backup!!! Has a merc superbattledroid, DRUS-21
- ⇆ Runaway!! Flees on next transport
- ⇆ Escape! With or without surgery and credentials, is off to a new life with the New Republic

Hermi Odle

- Employed by Jabba after he impressed the Hutt with his weapon-making skills, and tasked to make the palace impenetrable ☐
- A large Baragwin who wore a tattered cloak and had droopy lips (touchy about this) ☐
- Took up residence on Tatooine after his ship was shot down by an Imperial patrol ☐
- Faithful servant of the organization, designing weapons and the palace security system, and kept his position until Jabba's death ☐
- Rival—Pote Snitkin sabotaged Odle's weapon (the Thrasher), killing Jabba's pet bat-cat. Odle got revenge, stunning Snitkin on Jabba's sail barge in the frantic battle over Pit of Carkoon. Snitkin was unable to escape the blast of the barge. Odle, however, did escape and traveled to Mos Eisley, where he stole one of Jabba's starships (the Vashnool) and left Tatooine for good (the Client has the Thrasher ready for use on Odle, for stealing the ship—which was going to be given to his son, Rotta) ☐
- Vashnool was sold to the Black Sun for credits he used to start his freelance operation ☐

- ⇓ Safe NA for Odle
- ⇆ Alert! Interviewing for positions with either New Republic or Ex-Imperial on Jakku
- ⇆ Ready!! Has at least one weapon and backup on call (assistant and staff guards)
- ⇆ Backup!!! HQ with defenses and a dozen guards
- ⇆ Runaway!! Own transport with two fighters
- ⇆ Escape! Accepts best offer from NR or EI for safety and employment

Bane Malar

- A telepathic (and telekinetic) male bounty hunter in the employ of the Galactic Empire ☐
- Hired to track down and apprehend inmates who escaped from the Spice Mines of Kessel ☐
- Malar was quite good at his job, and soon enough mere mention of his name struck fear into the hearts of the inmates ☐
- While on Kessel, Malar developed an addiction to glitterstim—it enhanced telepathic abilities, and made him

- increasingly paranoid ☐
- Malar also accepted jobs from other entities while on Kessel, such as Jabba Desilijic Tiure, Black Sun and the Meatlumps ☐
- In 4 ABY, Black Sun hired him to assassinate Jabba, and he accepted, making his way to Tatooine ☐
- Once at Jabba's Palace, where he had an open invitation, he telepathically encountered the Jedi Luke Skywalker. The encounter scared Malar, and he departed Tatooine, ruining the operation. In the hopes of staving off any trouble from Black Sun, he tried to liberate one of their agents from the Spice Mines but failed in the attempt, earning himself a death mark ☐
- Over time, Malar's addiction and abilities grew unstable and he accidentally killed a gangster enforcer, Darhnia (the Client's daughter) and four thugs during a routine border patrol near Corellia (the Client has Malar's blaster rifle ready) ☐

- ⇓ Safe NA for Malar and is aboard an abandoned mining satellite called Ef'tulsen with old service droids and corrupted computer
- ⇆ Alert! Paratoid and delusional, glitterstim addict
- ⇆ Ready!! Flickers of himself with flashes of trauma (abilities without control)
- ⇆ Backup!!! Talks to the One Who Helps (unconscious mind using abilities to protect—dangerous)
- ⇆ Runaway!! Is a flight risk
- ⇆ Escape! Would flee if able to get away

THREATS

Bounties: Ree-Yees, Hermi Odle, and Bane Malar
 Minions: Droids, computers, hired personnel, the One
 Creatures: Mynocks, sand things on Jakku
 Natives: Tusken Raiders (“Sandpeople”), Jawas are everywhere, worms on Correlia
 Agencies: New Republic, Ex-Empire, Gangsters